MRS. BREIMANN'S LAWSUIT.

DEMANDING $20,000 FROM A WIDOW FOR TAKING HER HUSBAND. How Johann Julius Hermann Breimann to

Alleged to have been Begulied from his Home After Many Years of Happy Married Life-Kisses and a Love Letter. The trial of the novel suit of Mrs. Caroline Breimann against Mrs. Catharine Paasch. enid to be the first ever instituted in this country for the loss of the affections of a husband. vas begun before Judge Neilson and a jury in the Brooklyn City Court yesterday. The trial was in the same room and before the same Judge as Theodore Tilton's suit against Henry Ward Beecher for $100,000 damages for the loss of his wife's affection. Mrs. Breimann demands $20,000 damages. When the suit was begun the defendant demurred that there was no legal cause of action, but Judge Neilson decided, and the General Term confirmed his opinion, that a wife is as competent to sue for the estrangement of her husband, through another woman's wiles, as a husband is to sue for the loss of his wife's services and affections in the opposite case. Mrs. Breimann is about 45 years of age. Her husband, Johann Julius Hermann Breimann, was a tailer. The couple owned their home in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., where they lived for thirteen years. Breimann is six years for thirteen years. Breimann is six years younger than his wife, has a high, broad forehead, bright black eyes, an olive complexion glossy black side whiskers, and a commanding flure. Mrs. Paasch is a rich Brooklyn widow, who has buried two husbands. She wore in court yesterday a new soring bonnet, fresh black kid gloves, a black cashmere mantle ornamented with fringe, and a dark dress trimmed with silk and velvet. Her only is welry was a heavy dead-gold breastpin, which bound a collar of white ruche about her neck. She wore a veil throughout the proceedings. The plaintiff was plainly dressed. She seemed much more excited than the defendant, and it was necessary for her counsel, Mr. M. L. Towns, to restrain her from talking adoud.

There was much time spent in getting a jury, the plaintiff's counsel seeking principally for men of family, because a home destroyed and a family divided are elements in the case. The defendant's counsel, Mr. Horace Graves, asked to have the complaint dismissed, because there were not facts sufficient alleged for a tasts for the action, but the motion was denied, as was a motion to amend the answer. The gounsel then said that he understood that the plaintiff was willing to settle upon a stipulation that the defendant would no longer hold communion with or barbor Johann Julius Hermann Breimann. The defendant was willing to accept any suggestion of a compromise, and as the was willing to entertain any proposition. The Court said that it was not the proper time for such a statement, and directed the case to proceed.

was willing to entertain any proposition. The Court said that it was not the proper time for such a statement, and directed the case to proceed.

Mirs. Caroline Breimann testified, in broken English, that she was married in Copenhagen. Denmark, on Feb. 12, 1858, to Herr Johann Julius Hermann Breimann: that they removed to London, and about Hitten years ago they came to this country and settled in Pougnkeepsie, where they bought a house in Garden street. In October, 1877, he left his home, and the next March it was sold under foreclosure. Her husband had been, before the time of his describin, good and kimi, had goed habits, and made sometimes $20 a week. She never knew Mirs. Paasch until she came with a number of friends to her house in Poughtkeepsie, in 1877, on a visit. From certain actions of the defendant she began to suspect her. She saw things that led her to request Mrs. Paasch to leave the house, but Mrs. Paasch to leave the house, but Mrs. Paasch to leave the house, but Mrs. Paasch to leave the sold some latters alterward in her husband's pocket. He tried to get them away from her, but she held on to them. Then she said he went to Brooklyn to Mrs. Paasch, After he had been away for about a year he came back and asked to be forgiven. She forgave him, and he remained two days. Then Mrs. Paasch came for him in a carriage, walked into the house, and said that she must have Breimann back, as she could not live without him.

I hung en to my busband," said Mrs. Breimann, and I told Mrs. Paasch if she did not go right away I would kill her. I fainted and my husband carried me up stairs, but the next day he went to Brooklyn and saw him a number of times at Tompkins and Willoughby avenues, where Mrs. Paasch lives. I entreated and demanded that he should return to me, but he would not. For a time he gave me $2 a week but since he left me I have often suffered for the necessaries of life. Since my husband left me my health has been very bad."

On cross-examination Mrs. Breimann testified that she was 23 years old derstand.

Judge Neilson-You will please treat this wit-

Judge Neison—You will please treat this witness with the consideration which is always due to ignorant people who are not used to being examined in the witness stand.

Mrs. Caroline Beteinter, whose son-in-law is Mr. Breimann's brother, testified that in the fourteen years he had known the Breimanns they were never separated, and seemed happy. They had a comfortable home, which was well kept. The witness was in the party that visited Pourthkeepsie with Mrs. Pansch. She asked Mr. Breimann if he could deny that Mrs. Pansch was in his room. Mrs. Paasch said that Breimann was a nice little man. When Mrs. Breimann kissed her husband good night, Mrs.

Pourhkeepsie with Mrs. Pansch. She asked Mr. Brismann if he could deny that Mrs. Pansch was in his room. Mrs. Pansch said that Breimann was a nice little man. When Mrs. Breimann kissed her husband good night, Mrs. Pansch said: "What a shame that he has to be kissed by that woman!"

Policeman Bernard Regan said that when he went to arrest Mr. Breimann he had his photograph to guide him. He met Mrs. Pansch, who denied her identity. He found Breimann, who seemed to be living with Mrs. Pansch. The witness identified the photograph that he used in finding Breimann.

Mrs. Johanna Roccliers testified that she accompanied Mrs. Pansch on her first visit to the Breimanns in Poughkeepsie. Mrs. Pansch on seeing Breimann exclaimed. Oh, what a nice little man. They spent three days in Poughkeepsie, and Mrs. Pansch and Mr. Breimann were much together. When they went out for a walk Breimann was along. While the witness was putting on her bonnet before a mirror in the sitting room she saw Breimann and Mrs. Passch kissing each other.

Q.—Did the Breimanns seem to have a happy home? A.—Yes: their heme was very nice, their house was comfortable, and they lived there all by themselves and seemed happy.

Mrs. Eliza Rosenthal, one of Mrs. Pansch's tonants, testified that Mrs. Pansch told her that she had had a fuss about a woman's husband, whom she liked very much because he had such nice curly hair. The witness identified the following letter as having been written by Mrs. Pansch to Mr. Breimann:

[True love.] Wenneaus; The witness identified the following letter as having been written by Mrs. Pansch to Mr. Breimann:

[True love.] Wenneaus; here with her wherein I send the properties of the properties of the properties of the man indigent with a contribution of the has intuition to the test of the man indigent with an entirely different kind of people than are these tailer barons from the boulevard. This class reverencemens one for merely a little love, and that is allow offence. My dear butter fine, but you searcely describe the ma aran look into your sweeters. Farewell, till again we meet.

In a second letter the defendant wrote that the next time Breimann came down she would keep him two days, and he would see how fast the time would fly. These letters were in German. Interpreter Smith swore that the translations of them were correct.

Mrs. Lena Tiliman of Poughkeepsie, who keeps a larger beer saloon, testified, out of the regular order, for the defendant, that Mrs. Breimann was in the habit of bringing letters to lar to be read. In one of the letters Mr. Breimann wrote that he could not get any money from Mrs. Paasch. Mrs. Breimann said that she expected to get $10,000 out of Mrs. Paasch, with which she and her husband would so to Australia.

Henry isoloy, who drives a grocer's wagon in Poughkeopsie, testified aiso, for the defendant, that Mrs. Breimann had been unfaithful to her marriage vows in the summer of 1878. Mrs. Breimann indignantly denied on the spot that this was true. The witness repeated that it was $100.

Mrs. Rosenthal, on being recalled, identified

Mrs. Rosenthal, on being recalled, identified another love letter, in which Mrs. Pausch writes to Mr. Breimann about a flitterion she had had with a policeman who patrolled before her house. When he lifted his cap she bowed, and looked at him through an opera glass. Then she got acquainted with him and made an appointment, which she did not keep. She assured Breimann that she loved only him, and that the whole police force did not contain such a man.

The case will be rosumed to-day.

CHICAGO, April 15.—In the United States District Court this morning the case against B. F. Allen, charged with misapplication of the funds and faisifying the fetures of the Cook County National Bank, of which he was President, was called, and on the defendant's allivre's appear, his ball, to the amount of $5,000, was seclared fortested.

COLORED MEN AT THE CASE. Trouble in the Office of a So-called Religiou Contemporary.

Two colored compositors were working quietly at their cases yesterday in the office of the Weekly Witness, and six white compositors. who had quittwork and refused to work with them, were lounging about the room. The colored men have been working for the paper several months in a room below, where no o jection to their presence was made by half a dezen white men employed in mailing. It appears that the work on the Wilness got behind last Tuesday night, and as there was insufficient light in the mail room, the colored men took their cases up stairs and placed them on vacant stands that had been used for the Daily Witness. The white men grumbled a little, but Witness. The white men grumbled a little, but they did not then stop work, and the paper went to press as usual. But on Wednesday morning there was trouble, and six of the eight white men refused to work any longer unless the colored men were removed. The foreman was out for breakfast, and when he came back the white men stated their case to him. The substance of their story was that they thought it very bad that six white men should be made to give way, as they put it, "to a couple of niggers." The foreman was at first inclined to temporize, and to put the colored men in their former piace down stairs. But on reflection he concluded that he would not accede to the domand. In explanation of the matter, he said yesterday:

their former piace down stairs. But on reflection he concluded that he would not accede to the demand. In explanation of the matter, he said yesterday:

You see this circus all went on while I was away. When I got back I was going to put the colored men back in their old places, but I couldn't make up my mind to do it. I had found them to be steady, sober men. They were civil and gentlemanly and good workmen; they had helped us out when we wanted help on the Daily Winess, and I just says, These colored men shall stay if it takes the roof off, and there they are. The first one that came to work was Walter Sampson. After a while he offered to get us a colored friend of his to help, from Jacksonville Fla., named T. Thomas Fortune. We found Fortune a sober, industrious, catable man. As for discharging the men, we don't propose to do it. Both Mr. Dougal and Mr. Cochrane, the proprietors, are in favor of keeting the colored men as a matter of principle and justice, and we shall keep them at all hazards.

Walter Sampson, the younger of the colored men, is about 23 years old, stoutly built, rather light complexion, straight and good sized nose of by no means African type, and curly hair. He is strightly and gentlemanly in appearance, and might pass for a Spaniard. He was working busily at the case when a visitor called, but politely stopped to talk of the trouble. He said: 'I am the son of a Methodist dergyman, and was born in Cleveland, Onto. In 1859 I went to Florida with my parents. In 1871 I got a chance to work on the Florida Republican, and partly learned my trade there. After that paper broke up and was consolidated with the New South I finished my time and worked on the Florida Daily Union. In 1876 I went to Washington and worked on the Florida Pality Lines. In 1876 I went to Washington and worked on the Florida Daily Union. In 1869 I went for all man, the says there is some lindian blood in his paper as the other colored man, might easily pass for a bronzed Southern white man. He is 28 years old. His nose is l

IT WAS ONLY A MATCH,

BUT IT PROVED THE DESTRUCTION OF AN ENTIRE CITY-SOME HISTORIC INCIDENTS SHOWING HOW LITTLE MATTERS BRING ABOUT GREAT DIRASTERS.

Suggestions of Special Interest to the Un

ter of the "Gallant Six Hundred" at Balaklaya. A sligh error of information left Napoleon ignorant of the sunke depended, and changed the whole map of Europe. It was only a match, but it laid a whole city in ashes and thousands of families were rendered homeless. Only rifle, but it may cost a life!

trol the destinies of our lives. They decids whether we shall be joyous and healthful or despondent and misera-ble. Some people feel unaccountably tired, and their friends say "they are becoming stupid or lazy." They realize this is not true, but cannot account for the unusual lassitude. Other individuals have continuous headaches and wonder what they have eaten to cause such pain. There are still another class who have transient pains in different parts of the body, especially in the limbs and back, and they, too, fail to understand in the limbs and back, and they, too, tail to understand the reason. The cause in each case is the same, it is simple; it can be removed. But unless removed, and that promptly, the most serious consequences are cer-tain to follow. Whenever a person has the symptoms above noticed there is something the matter with the kidneys. The one who is suffering may not know it, but it is so. It is only a short time since it has been discov-ered that most aliments arise from disordered kidneys. ered that most ailments arise from disordered kidney although it has been known for years that the most virt lent, painful, and fatal diseases are those which originate in these organs. Pully one-half the American people although apparently well, have something disordered about their kidneys which they do not realize, but which is sapping the life. It is refreshing to know that a recent discovery, being the only Kidney-leaf extract ever pro-duced, will absolutely relieve and cure all forms of complaints arising from disordered kidneys. It is known as Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, and is unquestion-ably the purest, best, and most certain remedy ever brought before the public. It is for sale by druggists in all parts of the land, and, unlike any other remedy eve before produced, is infallible. Every statement above made is scientific truth, and advanced thinkers and al who value the blessings of health cannot afford to ignore them.
